

Global MA in International Education

DEAR STUDENTS:

Thank you for your interest in SIT Graduate Institute's Global Master's in International Education!

As Chair of this program, I'd like to introduce myself briefly. My name is Carolina Castro Huercano (she/her/they/them). I am a queer academic with an activist heart, deeply passionate about fostering intercultural understanding and advancing social justice. For more than two decades, I've worked as a global educator across continents, focusing on creating inclusive, active learning experiences that encourage curiosity, critical thinking, and collaboration. My goal is to empower learners to not only deepen their knowledge but also to actively shape the future of international education.

This program has a rich history at SIT, evolving over the years to become the dynamic, global degree it is today. It remains rooted in experiential learning, social justice, and decolonization, offering you a critical lens to examine and address inequities in education systems worldwide. Our curriculum blends academic rigor with practical application, equipping you to become a thoughtful, innovative leader in the field.

Should you decide to join the program, your year will challenge and inspire you. You'll have the opportunity to engage with diverse perspectives, develop meaningful connections with peers and professionals around the globe, and explore how education can be a tool for transformation and liberation. Together, we'll dive into the complexities and opportunities within international education, and I'm excited to see how each of you will bring your unique voice and experiences to this journey.

As you consider this program, please don't hesitate to reach out with any questions.

Warm regards,

Carolina
